PREFACE

HAVING spent my boyhood days in the very community where our ancestors settled, and having come in contact with many of the fathers of the previous generation, a peculiar interest and desire to know more of these families grew with me.

When I became the historian, in 1921, of the Bittner family, my interest and desire developed into action. With the gathering of material for the Bittner family, of necessity, because of intermarriages, much of the Werley family history came into my possession. Because of this and the urgent desire for the publication of the family history, resulted in my election as historian of both families in 1927.

I now present in this volume, the results of my researches, which consumed a generous portion of nine years. The material in most instances was gathered from the inscriptions, on tombstones on the cemeteries; also from family Bibles, court house records, the Pennsylvania Archives, correspondence, and personal interviews.

As far as I know there is no incorrect data incorporated in this work, and the work is about as complete as it is practical. Chapter 4 has been added, containing Bittner and Werley data with which we have come in contact and which has nothing in common with our genealogy. These records are given not only to show that I was familiar with this data, but for the benefit of our own, as well as their families.

Every member in each one of the family trees is given a number. In as much as there have been so many intermarriages from the very beginning, not only between members of the same family, but between the two families; the party to whom married, if related, is always accompanied by his or her number in brackets. When an asterisk (*) accompanies a number, it indicates that that individual is a member in the other family tree, and can be found there by referring to that number. The numbers without brackets indicate the children. These same children, when married and have children are carried forward and placed in brackets: thus [], which indicates the head of a family. The number following the word children, indicates the generation to which they belong.

The number in parenthesis appearing between the individual's christian and family name indicates the generation to which they belong.

For the sake of brevity, I have abbreviated the name of burial grounds, indicated after the names in the genealogical record. Herewith are given the following abbreviations and for what they stand:

- O. C. ....Old cemetery at Weisenburg.
- N. C. ....New cemetery at Weisenburg.
- Lynn. C. ....Lynnville Church cemetery.

Seiber. C. ....	Seiberlingsville Church cemetery.
N. T. C. ....	New Tripoli Church cemetery.
Schuyl. C. ....	Schuylkill Haven cemetery.
W. E. C. ....	West End cemetery, Allentown, Pa.
Morgan. C. ....	Morganland Church cemetery.
Grim. C. ....	Grimsville Church cemetery.
F. V. C. Cat. ....	Fairview cemetery, Catasauqua.
Fogel. C. ....	Fogelsville cemetery.
Union C. ....	Union cemetery, Allentown.
Union. C. ....	Unionville Church cemetery.
Ziegel's C. ....	Ziegel Church cemetery.
G. View C. ....	Grand View cemetery, Allentown.

With the above few explanations it should be easy for any one to trace his own ancestry. My desire is that a volume of this history may find its way into every home of our families, so that our lives may be fired with even greater zeal and energy, as we recall the heroic deeds of our forefathers. With this fondest hope I send forth this family history, on this my forty-eighth birthday anniversary.

REV. J. W. BITTNER.

INTRODUCTION

ABOUT seventy-five years after the landing of the Pilgrim fathers on the shores of Massachusetts a stream of immigrants began to flow into our country which widened as the years of the 18th century rolled by. A hundred thousand immigrants likely arrived on our shores during the 18th century. The names of many of these immigrants who landed in Philadelphia are preserved in the state archives at Harrisburg. A list of 30 thousand names of immigrants was published by Prof. I. Daniel Rupp some years ago. The Pennsylvania German Historical Society is at present preparing a complete list of the names of immigrants that are available at the state archives.

The reasons for these immigrants leaving their fatherland and coming to our shores may vary somewhat. One reason as far as the German was concerned was to escape military training. Under the old regime in Germany, a man, at the age of about twenty, had to serve three years in the regular army. Another, and by far the greater and weightier reason, was to seek religious, as well as civil liberty.

The Reformation which started in Germany in 1517 after a time was favorably received by many of the princes and people, so that eventually, after the 30 years war, it became the state religion. The reformation spread into France, but here it was sternly resisted by the French government and supported by the Roman Catholic hierarchy. Beginning with the year 1525 the Protestants of France had a rough road to travel. Thousands of the French people from various walks of life embraced the Protestant faith. This aroused the fears of the political authorities, and from 1560 for a period of sixty-nine years France was plunged into a dreadful war, in which the Protestant armies fought most heroically against the forces of the empire. The Protestants fought with varying success, and would have been successful had not the King on October 18, 1685, issued the Revocation of the Edict of Nantes, the Edict of Toleration for French Protestants issued eighty-seven years before by Henry of Navarre. With the Protestant Palatinate of France over run no less than three times in a period of thirty years, their homes destroyed and lands laid waste, these French Protestants, or Huguenots as they are known, rather than deny their faith, fled the country leaving all behind. It is estimated that from 500,000 to 1,000,000 Protestants left their Catholic brethren in France, and found refuge in countries offering them protection. Among these countries, were Germany, Denmark, Sweden, Holland, England and America. Many of these refugees who fled first to other countries eventually came to America.

Many of the immigrants who came to this country had not wherewith to pay their passage, which was £10 from Rotterdam to Philadelphia; and the trip down the Rhine was about $35.00. Many spent as much as $176.00 on the trip from their home to Philadelphia. Those who were unable to pay their passage money were bound out to the highest bidder on their arrival at Philadelphia, to serve three, four, five or more years for the amount due by them. Such were known as Redemptioners. The trip across the ocean took from six to nine weeks; in stormy weather, as long as four months was required.

The ships that brought our forefathers to these shores were indeed small as compared with the modern ocean going steamer. The largest ocean steamers of today are about 1000 feet long, with 100 feet in breadth. The ships in the days of our ancestors, were mere sail boats driven by the wind. The smallest was 63 feet long and 21 feet wide. The hold was 9 feet 7½ inches deep. The ships tonnage was 108 tons. The largest ship was 99 feet long, with 26 feet in breadth, and a tonnage of 311 tons. Few ships carried more than 300 passengers and many carried considerable less. Each ship was known by a name. The Bittners and Werleys that came in the 18th century, and given below, have attached to their name, the name of the ship they came in, and the date of its arrival.

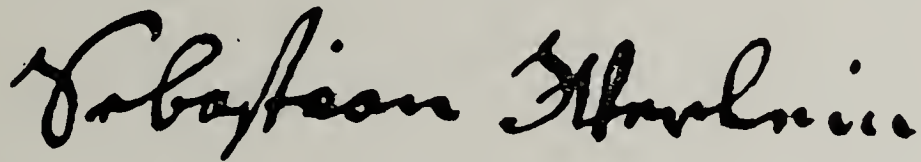

In the list of immigrants that arrived at Philadelphia in the eighteenth century appear the following names of Bittners and Werleys, with date of arrival and name of ship:

Casper Bittner .....	Aug. 29, 1730 ....	Ship Thistle
Martin Bittner .....	May 30, 1741 ....	Ship Snow Francis and Ann
Heinrich Büttner .....	Aug. 1, 1747 .....	Ship Bilander Vernon
Hans Michael Büttner .....	Aug. 1, 1747 .....	Ship Bilander Vernon
Gottfried Büttner .....	Aug. 21, 1750 ....	Ship Anderson
Johann Christoph Buttner	Nov. 2, 1752 .....	Ship Sphinx
David Bütner .....	Sept. 14, 1754 ....	Ship Nancy
Michael Büttner .....	Oct. 27, 1764 ....	Ship Hero
Hans Georg Büttner .....	Nov. 10, 1764 ....	Ship Boston
Johann Carl Büttner .....	Aug. 23, 1773 ....	Ship Sally
John Daniel Worley .....	Aug. 19, 1729 ....	Ship Mortonhouse
Dietrich Werlie .....	Sept. 16, 1736 ....	Ship Princess Augustus
Henrich Werlle .....	Oct. 19, 1736 ....	Ship Samuel
Jacob Werly .....	Aug. 28, 1750 ....	Ship Phoenix
Sebastian Werlein .....	Sept. 24, 1753 ....	Ship Neptune
Johann Michael Werlein .	Sept. 24, 1753 ....	Ship Neptune

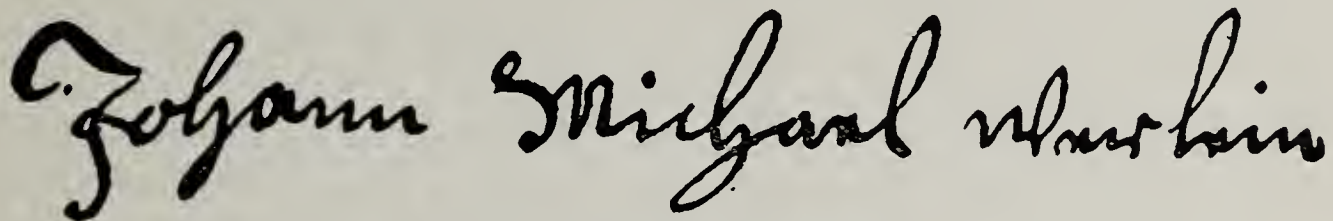

There were several other Bittners and Werleys that arrived on these shores not embraced in this period of which we will have something to say in Chapter 4.

It is interesting to note the difference in the spelling of these names: Bittner; Bitner and Büttner; Worley; Werlie; Werlle; Werly; and Werlein. If these immigrants had one common ancestor sometime in the past it is difficult to say what was the original spelling. We are informed that in Germany today there appears the name Bittner and Büttner and Werle and Werlein. This would indicate that in the eighteenth century these different spellings in the family name appeared in Germany.

Sebastian Werlein

John Michael Werlein

Michael Büttner

These signatures are exact reproductions of the original signatures found on the ship's record.

Michael Büttner and Sebastian Werlein are the ancestors of the Bittners and Werleys which go in the making of this volume.

There is a tradition come to us from the children and grandchildren of these ancestors, that they came originally from Alsace Lorraine.

That during the French persecution they fled for refuge into Germany and later their descendants came to America. In an article on Weisenburg township, appearing in the history of Lehigh and Carbon counties published in 1884, Mr. Solomon Rupp [576 Bittner Hist.] writes as follows: "The Werley's are of French descent. The fact that all belong to the Lutheran church, and that they early spoke the German language, can only be explained in the following manner viz: their early ancestors probably were French Protestants or Huguenots. When Louis XIV, revoked the Edict of Nantes, in 1685, they must have emigrated to Germany, and adopted the German language and the Lutheran faith. They are still often called Franks." The writer recalls when a mere lad, that when a funeral occurred among the families; the expression was frequently made: "Das giebt einmal weder ein Franken Fresz." (This will give another French dinner). The above referring to the elaborate dinners that were served on such occasions.

What has now been said, would seem to indicate that our ancestors came originally from Alsace Lorraine, by way of Germany to Philadelphia. But how can we explain the Germanic name? The fact that they may have spent a generation or more in Germany, during the French persecution does not seem to explain the origin of their names. The names in either case we are informed are good German names and are still to be found in Germany. Like many other German family names, they describe the man or his occupation. Hence Böttner means "the tub-maker" and Werlein "Der kleine." This would seem almost conclusive that our ancestors were rather of German extraction. The name Werle is also found in Germany today. In France the name Wohrley or Worley is found. We question very much whether Werlein was ever derived from the French Wohrley, although it is possible that Werle as found in Germany may have its origin from the French name Wohrley. The descendants of Sebastian Werlein have changed the spelling from Werlein to Werley. In one branch of the family tree several of the children of Stephen Werley [138] i.e., Harry [473] and Mathias [475] and their descendants have changed the spelling to Worley; having been informed that that was the correct spelling. From the above it would appear that the descendants of Sebastian Werley (Werlein) have nothing in common with the numerous other Wohrleys (or Worley) in this country. (The descendants of Johann Michael Werlein [Werley], a brother of Sebastian excepted. For we do not know how they spell their name at the present time. See chapter 4.)

Tradition has it, that Sebastian Werley arrived in Philadelphia and settled in Weisenburg township, Lehigh County, Pa. With him came his wife Rosina Derr, and her brother John Derr. With them, it was supposed, came Andreas Bittner, then a child of five years, with his widowed mother, and two sisters of Andreas. That the mother of Andreas later married a Holben. It was further related that Sebastian Werley and wife arrived about 1750, and their first son Johann Nicholas, known as "Hannickle" [2] was born on the ocean. There is a shade of truth in the above tradition, but the original facts became beclouded as time went on so that when we compare it with the facts, which have been unearthed, one can readily see how this tradition became corrupted.

What are the discovered facts? Sebastian Werley, with his brother Johann Michael, arrived in Philadelphia on Monday, September 24, 1753, on the ship Neptune. If Johann Nicholas [2], eldest son of Sebastian was born on the ocean, then his birth August 27, 1752, as recorded on his tombstone is wrong by just one year. This is possible. It was supposed that Andreas Bittner and his widowed mother came with Sebastian. The fact is, that the father of Andreas, Michael Bittner with his wife Clara arrived in Philadelphia, on Saturday, October 27, 1764, and settled in Weisenburg township; was taxed £1 in 1768 and died between 1768 and 1769. Andreas was born in 1759, and was five years old when in 1764 he came with his parents Michael and Clara Bittner. Michael died five years later when Andreas was ten years old. The grandchildren forgot or perhaps never knew this, hence the tradition. Again it was thought that John Derr, a brother of Rosina Derr, wife of Sebastian Werley came with the Werleys. The fact is that John Derr, (or Johannes Dürer as he signed his name in the list of immigrants record) came in the ship Hero with Michael Bittner and wife Clara in 1764. Besides John Derr does not appear on the tax records of 1762 either in Lowhill or Weisenburg township until after 1764, the name of John Derr appears in the Weisenburg list. Inasmuch as John Derr was a brother of Mrs. Sebastian Werley, may we not conclude that Clara, Mrs. Michael Bittner, was a sister of Mrs. Sebastian Werley, or even a sister of Sebastian Werley. That there was a close relation between the two families, further appears from the fact, that Sebastian Werley appears as a bondsman for Clara as one of the Administrators in her husband, Michael Bittner's estate. Valentine Derr arrived in 1756 and his name appears in the tax list of 1762 but not in 1781. He is the other administrator with Clara in the Michael Bittner estate. Valentine was likely a brother of John and Mrs. Werley. Again Michael Bittner and wife Clara were sponsors for a daughter of Sebastian and Rosina; so also Valentine Derr and wife Anna Maria for two other children of Sebastian.

The children of Michael Bittner and Sebastian, and his brother Johann Michael Werley proved themselves worthy of the adopted country of their parents. When the American colonists declared themselves free and independent, the sons of our ancestors took up arms and joined the boys of the American Revolution; as the following record shows, which was taken from the Pennsylvania Archives at Harrisburg.

CHAPTER I

Michael Büttner and Children

AT the time when Michael Bittner and Sebastian Werley came to Weisenburg township, Lehigh County was not yet formed, it being a part of Northampton County. Lehigh county was formed in 1812. Consequently all records of the ancestors prior to 1812 must be looked for at the county seat of Northampton, which is Easton. As a result of the distance and inconvenience of travel, very few deeds were recorded. The Orphans' Court and Register of Wills offices give only four records of the settlement of estates. Michael Bittner and his wife Clara settled in Weisenburg township some time after their arrival in 1764. Just where they resided in the township is not known. It is very likely that they lived within close proximity of the Werley Homestead. In 1768 according to the tax list of the township filed in the commissioners' office at Easton, he is taxed £1. Michael must have died the latter part of 1768 or the beginning of 1769. For an inventory and appraisement, dated Oct. 31, 1769, was filed with the Register of Wills, at Easton, Pa., on Nov. 7, 1769. The appraisers were Jacob Holben and Valentine Gramlich. Under the same date, Nov. 7, 1769, "Clara Bittner, widow of Michael Bittner, late of Weisenburg township, Northampton Co., yeoman, Valentine Derr and Sebastian Werlie both of the same place, yeomen are held and firmly bound unto Benjamin Chew, Register general for the probate of wills and granting letters of administration in the Province of Pennsylvania in the sum of £100 lawful money." In the letters of Administration, of which the above is a part, the name Clara Büttner (Bittner) is signed in English, to which she made her mark. The names of Valentine Dürri (Derr) and Sebastian Werlein (Werley) is affixed in German. The witnesses were Abraham Berlin (German) and Robert Traill (English).

The statement of the final settlement of the estate was made on May 7, 1771. The disbursements amounted to £19, 18s, 7½p. The balance due by the said accountants was £50, S11, p2½.

Disbursements were made to 27 different parties. We will give a few of the most interesting names: Jacob Herber, Lawrence Dürri, Valentine Gramlich, Christian Seiberling, Jacob Holben, John Hartman, Christopher Deisher, Sebastian Werlein and George Kistler. Nothing more is known of Michael Bittner. He undoubtedly lies buried on the old cemetery at the Weisenburg church, his being among the first burials. Andreas (Andrew) Bittner only son of Michael was thought to have had two sisters. The name of one of these sisters was Louise. The Rev. Daniel Schumacher who was pastor at Weisenburg from 1757 to 1771 confirmed "Louise Bittner" on May 5, 1771. (Pastoral acts of Rev. Daniel Schumacher, Archives, Mt. Airy Theological Seminary, Phila., Pa.) This is all that is known of Louise. She was undoubtedly older than Andreas. Andreas was likely confirmed two or three years later. Of this period there are no records known to exist. Of the other sister nothing is known. Andreas was five years old when he arrived with his parents and ten when his father died. It was said that he was reared by a Holben family, one of whose sons had married Clara, his mother. This cannot be verified. The first time we hear of him is in 1785, when at the age of 26 years, as a single man he was taxed, 12 shillings and 6 pence, in Lynn township, Leh. Co., (Penna. Archives, Vol. 19, 3rd series. Page 120 at Harrisburg). We next trace Andreas to what is now Bittner's Corner. We quote out of History of Lehigh and Carbon counties, from the article bearing on Lowhill township: "John Hartman took out a warrant for land at what is now Bittner's Corner in 1768 and 1789. Soon after the latter purchase, Andreas Bittner, a native of Germany, purchased the property of John Hartman, having previously purchased land adjoining." It may be that the tract of land referred to in the settlement of the estate of Andreas, as located in Lowhill Twp., and sold under an agreement by all his heirs for $440.14, is this tract. (See account of the settlement of the estate of Andreas in the following pages.) Of this no record can be found in the Court House. Jacob Bittner [3] one of the administrators and son of Andreas came into the possession of this place. He died a few years before the time this article in the history was written, and likely through him this information was preserved. The article further says that "here several of his children were born, but about 1800 he moved to Weisenburg, where he died."

The place referred to above in the last sentence is known as the old Bittner Homestead located on the road between the Lowhill and the Weisenburg churches, owned until lately by his grandson William Bittner, but now in the possession of Nathan Snyder of New Tripoli. William bought the homestead from his father Henry (Heinrich), it containing 104 acres and 135 perches.

Of the above acreage 100 acres and 102 perches were granted by the Commonwealth, by patent dated May 20, 1840, Patent Book H. Vol. 43, Page 147, to Peter Frey and wife Maria Barbara by their Indenture dated July 29, 1840, sold same to Henry Bittner [5]. Four acres and 33 perches being part of a larger tract of land which the Commonwealth of Penna., by Patent dated Feb. 21, 1840. Enrolled in Patent Book H, Vol. 41, Page 511, granted and confirmed to Jeremiah Derr [160] (Werley history) who with Rasy (also Rayse and Rosi) his wife by their Indenture dated Nov. 3, 1854, sold same to Henry Bittner, [5] (Recorder of deeds, Vol. 47, Page 727). It would appear from the above records that Henry Bittner [5] instead of getting the homestead from his father Andreas, bought same from Peter Frey and Jeremiah Derr. This is what the records show, and would be accepted as final, were it not for the fact, that it was known that he (Andreas) had been in possession of the farm. The grandchildren were in accord with this. My Uncle William, grandchild of Andreas, pointed out the place where the old log house stood and where he reared his family of ten children. This log house stood along the hill, across the meadow from the present house below the street. It was located somewhat below a straight line run from that house.

The above official records are undoubtedly correct but need explanation. Before Peter Frey received his Patent in 1840, his father Michael Frey owned the place and Michael Frey, having sold the 100 acres to Andreas Bittner, was not in a position to grant a deed, he himself not having as yet received a patent from the Commonwealth of Penna. It is known that often the early settlers were slow in asking the Commonwealth for patents or land grants, which they had taken possession of. On the other hand the Commonwealth was at times equally slow in issuing these grants. It is very likely that Michael Frey had made application for a patent but was not issued until 1840, by which time Michael had died and son Peter Frey had taken possession of it. Andreas Bittner also had died in 1831 and therefore could not receive the deed, Henry having received the homestead, the deed was issued to him. This was most likely the case. For observe the grant was made to Peter Frey, May 20, 1840, and Peter by his Indenture dated, the same year, July 29, 1840, sold same to Henry Bittner. That is, so we believe, Peter Frey now in 1840 gave a free title to Henry Bittner, which his father Michael Frey could not give to Andreas, father of Henry. Michael had not wherewith to give it, the Commonwealth not having granted this right until 1840. This is not an isolated case.

Andreas Bittner died in 1831 and was buried with his wife on the Old Weisenburg cemetery, but they were later disinterred and placed along side of his son Jacob, inside the entrance of the new cemetery. An inventory and account of the administrators of his estate is filed in the office of Register of Wills No. 85, File 1115, Allentown, Pa. The administrators were his two eldest sons John and Jacob. The bondsmen were Peter George and Christian Holben. The account of settlement of the estate follows:

Most of the ten children of Andreas lived in the vicinity of the Old Bittner Homestead. John [2] lived at one time, east of Lowhill Church on what is now the property of Adam P. Frey. Jacob [3] lived at Bittner's Corner. Andreas [4] the third son of Andreas, Sr., lived near Lyon Valley. (Note: There was still another Andreas [14] who was the son of John [2] and lived on the first farm across the hill on road leading from Lyon Valley to Weidasville.) Peter [6], who was a weaver, lived northeast and next to the homestead. The place was later occupied by his son Edwin [49]. Henry [5] lived on the homestead. Benjamin [7] the sixth son, lived above the homestead, now occupied by Mrs. Albert Bittner [291]. Daniel [8] the seventh and last son, was first connected with the store at Lyon Valley, later conducted the hotel at Werley's Corner, from where he moved to Allentown, and was a partner with Joseph Hartman [60], his son-in-law, of the Pennsylvania House, then located at 7th and Linden Streets. This was a popular place in its day. Lydia [9] oldest daughter of Andreas, Mrs. Sebastian Werley [11] lived near Werley's Corner. Magdalena (Polly) [10] married to Theobald (Dewalt) Werley [12] had the store at Sweitzer. Catherine [11], the youngest daughter married to Joseph (Joshua) Werley [44] lived near Lowhill Church along road leading to Kressley's Machine Shop.

CHAPTER 2

Sebastian Werley and Children

SEBASTIAN WERLEY, the immigrant, came to Weisenburg township and settled on a farm located between the Lynnvile Church and Buck's school house. During the week of Oct. 22 to 26, 1765, Sebastian and his brother Johann Michael Werlein received their naturalization papers, by the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania at the sessions in Independence Hall, Philadelphia: Sebastian of Weisenburg township, Northampton county, who declared that he had taken the sacrament of the Holy Supper on October 8th, 1765: (at Weisenburg) Johann Michael, his brother, of Albany township declared that he took the Holy Sacrament of the Lord's Supper on October 20, 1765. (Likely at Jerusalem, Red Church, Albany.) It was required by the authorities at the time that all who apply for naturalization, can do so only after having lived in this country for a number of years and given proof that they had communed. On Dec. 2, 1766, he made application to the Commonwealth for this tract of land. It was surveyed, the 23rd of March 1767, and known as No. 2176 and containing 83 acres and 46 perches. A draft of the land is here shown, which is a reproduction of the original.

It may be of interest to note the men owning adjoining land. As the survey shows, they are Valentine Dürr, late Dewalt Moyer, Peter Wise, Conrad Holben, Jacob Holtz, Jacob Meas, and Jacob Greenawalt.

Here Sebastian built a log house which stood at the same place where the present dwelling is now located but nearer to the street. Here they lived, labored and died. On March 19th, 1793, Sebastian sold the property to his son Valentine, who in the same year was granted a patent for a tract bordering the homestead, known as tract No. 2. Later he bought the property of the late Dewalt Moyer, known as tract No. 3. In 1798 another patent was obtained from the Commonwealth, known as tract No. 4. In 1800 Valentine had a draft made of the land which shows the 4 surveys, two hundred and twenty-two acres with the following properties abutting: land of the late Michael Braucher now Andrew Tresler, Christian Seiberling, Christian Weiss, Michael Fenstermaker, Theobold Werley (his brother), Abraham Greenawalt, Daniel Wertz and Christian Marburger. (Valentine also bought for his son Daniel a farm in Lowhill twp., located between Lowhill Church and Kressley's Machine Shop. It abutted the land of John Bittner.)

Valentine had a will, dated Dec. 23, 1840, in which his son Daniel and son-in-law, Jacob Zimmerman were made the executors. The will was filed Oct. 25, 1847. Consequently Valentine died in the year 1847. The appraisers were Adam Bachman and Peter Weiss. The appraisal was $586.20. The account of the sale was filed Jan. 2, 1849, and amounted to $599.20 (Register of Wills, File No. 2062, Allentown, Pa.).

His son Charles received the homestead and after his death, his wife Lydia, on March 20, 1874, sold part of the homestead to Owen and the other part to his brother Alvin. Alvin receiving that part which contained the original log house of Sebastian, while Owen received that part on which was later located the California House. This was a hotel. Mr. Jonas Werley secured a license about 1864, but it was only in existence for a few years. Edwin [538] son of Owen Werley lives at this place, while his cousin Charles [543] son of Alvin Werley, lives on the homestead. Thus the old home has so far always remained in the Werley name.

This is not the only place that Sebastian owned. Another of his farms which is still in the Werley name is located in the Holben Valley. He bought this farm on Apr. 22, 1785 from Jacob Holby (Holben), who had bought the same from Michael Beaver on Mar. 9, 1772. Michael Bieber had bought the farm from George Shifler on Jan. 27, 1762, who received it by warrant from the Commonwealth on Jan. 11, 1759. Sebastian Werley deeded this farm to his son Michael [2] on Mar. 9, 1793. (Note that this was on the same date that he sold the other farm to Valentine.) In 1816 Michael [2] sold same to his son (Joh) Michael [20]. This Johan Michael was always known as Michael. On the day of his funeral, when the pastor, the Rev. O. Leopold read the obituary, was it discovered that he had been baptized Johan Michael Werley.

On the tombstone his name appears Joh. Michael Werley. He who sold same to his son Michael [102], on Feb. 27, 1865. Michael [102] sold the homestead to his son Levi [392], on Sept. 8, 1873, who sold same to his son L. James Werley June 6, 1922. So this is also known as the Werley homestead, and has thus far, since Sebastian bought same in 1785, been owned by his descendants.

Dewalt Werley, son of Sebastian, the immigrant owned a large tract of land. He lived near, where now the Seiberlingsville church stands. The church stands on ground once owned by Dewalt. The two farms lying below (east) the cemetery belonged to Dewalt. His sons Heinrich and Nicholas occupied these farms in their day. In looking at the draft of Valentine, his brother's plantation, Dewalt had land adjoining. Whether Dewalt's tract was so large that it stretched across to that point near what is now Buck's school house, bordering that of Valentine or whether he had another tract located there is not known to the writer.

Dewalt (in English Theobald) was baptized June 8, 1760 in Lynn Tp. The sponsors were Dewalt Meier and wife Catherine. The date of his birth is unknown. Dewalt died at age of 52 years. While breaking a colt, he was severely thrown, from the effects of which he died about a year afterwards. He and his wife are buried on the old cemetery at the Weisenburg church. There is no marker to indicate their graves. The date of their death we get from the settlement of his estate.

An inventory of the estate of Dewalt Werley was filed on June 16, 1812, in the office of Register of Wills in Northampton Co., at Easton. The appraisers were Jacob Derr and Jacob Ettinger. The amount of the appraisal was $826.96. The administrator's bond was filed June 2, 1812. His wife, Sussanna, and son, Jacob Werley, were the administrators. The bondsmen were (John) Nicholas and Valentine, brothers of Dewalt. An account of the settlement of Dewalt's estate was filed in the same office on Feb. 17, 1814. The amount given is $934.83. The account is signed only by one of the administrators, Jacob Werley. This would seem to indicate that Sussanna, Dewalt's wife, the other administrator, had died. From this we conclude that Dewalt Werley died in the beginning of the year 1812, and his wife sometime previous to Feb. 17, 1814.

On May 27, 1816 the court appointed Jacob Mummy as guardian for Magdalena [29] daughter of Dewalt Werley, deceased, upon her own request, she being a minor, Docket No. 1, Page 126, Orphans' Court, Allentown, Pa. Jacob Mummy was likely a brother of Susanna and they in turn were likely children of Jacob Mummy from Seiberlingsville who was Captain of a regiment formed in Weisenburg Tp. They went to New York, joined the Army of Washington. They fought in the battle of Long Island, under General Sterling. Many of them were captured after the defeat, among them being Jacob Mummy. He, with others was imprisoned in a church and later in a ship, where he died.

John Nicholas Werley, son of Sebastian and brother of Valentine Michael and Dewalt lived on a large farm which comprised the farms now owned and operated by Oscar Bittner [240] and Weldon Werley [698] above Sweitzer. It will be seen what has been said that the four sons of Sebastian lived on plantations bordering, or almost so, the homestead.

Church and School

WHEN Sebastian Werley arrived in Weisenburg township in 1753, there were already services conducted in the community. The building of the first church dates back to June 1754, one year after the arrival of Sebastian Werley and his brother Johann Michael Werley.

WEISENBURG CHURCH

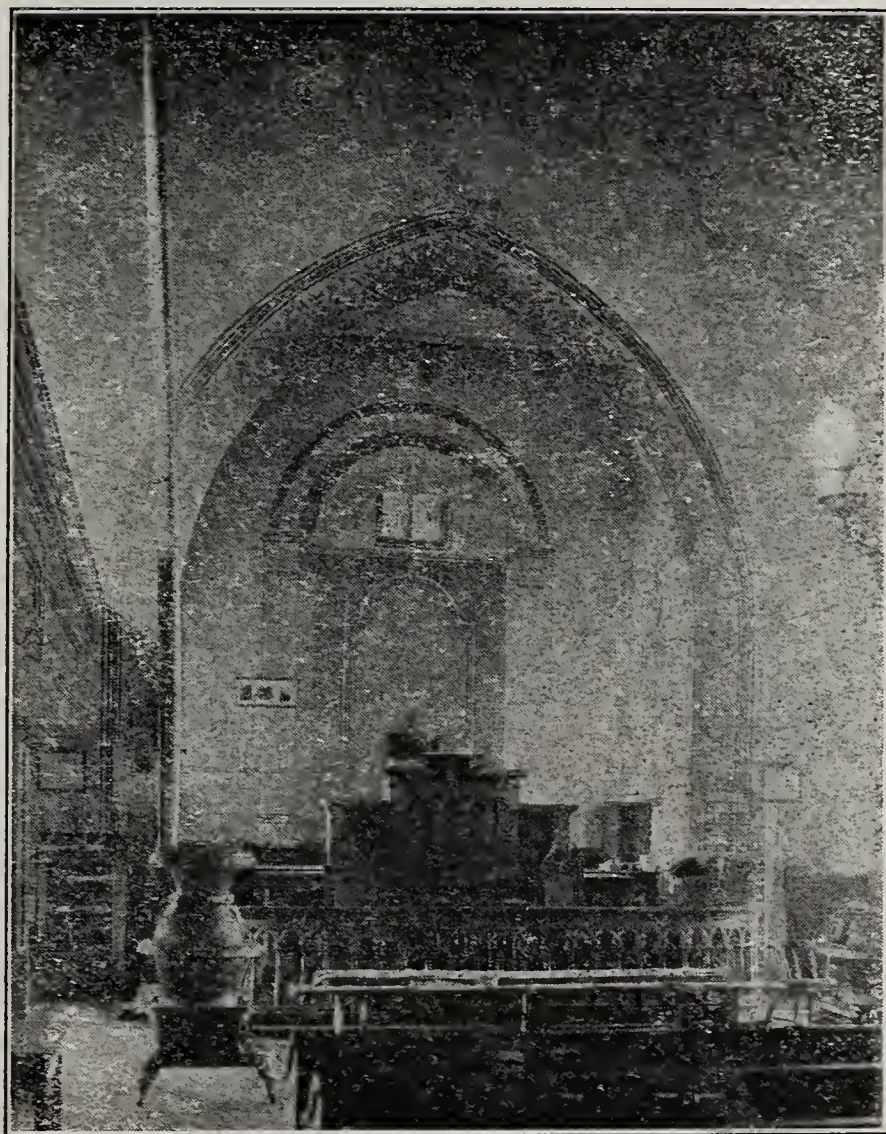

A Patent was granted to the "Weisenburg Lutheran and Calvinistic" (Reformed) congregations; "Dated Feb. 5, 1768, the 8th year of the reign of King George the 3rd over Great Britain and the 50th year of the said proprietarie's government John Penn." The land surveyed contained 46 acres, 33 perches. The price was £2, 6s, a yearly pay of one penny sterling for every acre to the proprietors or heirs at the town of Easton. The church was to be called White (Weisen) Church. (Recorder of Deeds, Vol. 16, page 354, Allentown, Pa.) Three acres, 74 perches were received from the Commonwealth and paid for by Nicholas Brader in 1839.

The first church was built of logs and was located in front of the old cemetery. The old records of the church had been taken to Ziegel's church some years ago, to be used in connection with some meeting and left there. During a thunderstorm, the church was destroyed and with it the records of the Weisenburg church.

The following records have been copied from the Pastoral Acts of the Rev.

BAPTISMS

Clara, daughter of Sebastian and Rosina Barbara Werlein, born Jan. 20, 1767; baptized Feb. 1, 1767. Sponsors were Michael and Clara Büttner.

Johann Dewalt, son of Sebastian and Rosina Barbara Werli, was baptized in Lynn Tp., on June 8, 1760. Sponsors were Dewalt Meier and Catherine.

Anna Maria, daughter of Sebastian and Rosina Werly, was baptized May 30, 1762; 11 weeks old. Sponsors were Valentine Derr and Anna Maria.

Valentine, son of Sebastian and Rosina B. Werlein, was baptized Mar. 25, 1764; 14 weeks old. Sponsors were Valentine Derr and Anna Maria.

Johann Albrecht, son of Michael and Catherine Werlein, was baptized June 21, 1761. He was born 14 days before in Allemangle. Sponsors were Johann Albrecht Stimmel and Catherine Elizabeth. (This was a son of Johann Michael, a brother of Sebastian, see chapter 4.)

CONFIRMED

Andera B. Werle, John Nicholas Werle, John Michael Werle, confirmed in Allemangle 1769. (This was the Red Church near Wessnersville, Albany Twp., Pa.)

Margaretha Werlin, confirmed in Allemangle on Whitsuntide 1772. (She was likely a sister of Johann Albrecht.)

Catherine Werlein was confirmed, May 2, 1773 in Weisenburg (daughter of Sebastian.)

Louise Büttner confirmed May 5, 1771 (daughter of Michael and sister of Andreas.)

We are much indebted to an article prepared by Rev. Wm. A. Helfrich, on the history of the Weisenburg Church and appearing in the History of Lehigh and Carbon counties, published in 1884. This article was prepared before the records of the church were destroyed. About thirty-five years ago the janitor of the church without the consent of the authorities, removed some of the old tombstones on the pretext that it was easier to clean the cemetery. He was however stopped. But considerable mischief had already been done. A list of the membership of the church is still in existence, which is given as those of the first settlers. The date of this list is not given but must be placed previous to 1764. The name of Michael Bittner and John Derr do not appear on this list and that is the year they arrived. Again the Lowhill church was organized in 1769 by the withdrawal of the greater portion of the reformed from the Weisenburg church. When we compare the list of those that organized the Lowhill church with above list of the Weisenburg church, we find that the two lists have only two names in common. They are Johannes George and Johann A. Geiss. This would indicate that those that left the Weisenburg church and joined in the establishment of the Lowhill church belonged to a later period, and that we are safe in placing the Weisenburg list of membership between the years 1753 and 1760. We say 1753, because that is the year Sebastian Werley arrived, and his name appears on the Weisenburg list.

By resolution Nov. 7th, 1803, the congregation decided to build a new church. This edifice was dedicated in 1804, by Rev. J. F. Obenhausen, the Lutheran minister, and Rev. Johannes Heinrich Helfrich, the Reformed minister. The church was again constructed of logs and occupied the same place as the first building in front of the old cemetery. The following names are affixed to the resolutions:

Jacob Herber	Sebastian Werlein
Simon Georg	Michael Werlein
Heinrich Schneider	Andreas Buchmann
Mathias Sentell	Georg Rau
Lorentz Holben	Andreas Bittner
Abraham Grünewald	Nicolaus Werlein
Philip Herber	Valentin Werlein
John Weiss	Jacob Schumacher
Heinrich Weiss	Peter Hallenbach
John Sieger	Peter Rau
Heinrich Kregloh	Sebastian Ettel
Theobold Holben	Frederick Seiberling
Theobold Werlein

It is interesting to note that on this resolution appears Andreas Bittner, Sebastian Werley and his four sons. Observe also that the Werleys by their own choice still write their names as Werlein.

The second edifice after giving twenty-six years of service was superseded by a third structure in 1830. This building was of stone and was located on the site where the present church stands. The church record gave the following men who served at this time: Building committee, Nicolaus Werley [2], Michael Frey, Andreas Bittner [1].

The pastors were Rev. George Wartmann (Lutheran) and Rev. Johannes Helfrich (Reformed).

The present church was built of brick in 1864. The members of the building committee were: J. Zimmerman [34], (Werley Hist.), P. Rabenold, R. Seibert and D. Weiss.

The pastors were Rev. Owen Leopold (Lutheran) and Rev. Alfred J. Herman (Reformed).

The bricks used in the erection of this building were made in the valley east of the Lowhill church on the farm owned by Peter Shoemaker. The church is a very fine specimen of the architecture of the day. The beautiful steeple, painted in white is an object of admiration as one looks across the green hilly country and sees this steeple in monument like fashion rising above the mountain tops. We are informed that this church was at one time known as the "Hochmuths Kirche" (The church of Pride).

In the above expression there were wrapped up feelings which date back a hundred years, to 1765, which was eleven years after the building of the first church (1754) at Weisenburg. It happened in this wise: The Rev. David Shumacher was the Lutheran minister. He was a cultured man, and a better minister than the Reformed, the Rev. J. Michael. The result was that although the Reformed were first on the field, the Lutheran gained greater influence. As a result of this, a fight developed and the greater part of the Reformed congregation seceded. The New Jerusalem (known as Red church) near Wessnersville, being a Lutheran organization, an effort was made by the Reformed of Weisenburg to gain title with the Lutherans there. In this they did not succeed. So they withdrew across the boundry into Lowhill township and founded the Lowhill church. In 1769 the first church was erected of logs. The second, a union church, was constructed in 1798, also of logs. The third and present church was erected in 1858 of brick and crowned with a belfry and finished in the accepted style of the time. After having worshipped for sixty years in a log building, the need of a new and modern edifice was evident.

Now, let us return to Weisenburg; what were the conditions there? They had a good and substantial church building, erected of stone, twenty-eight years before, (1830). While the building was substantial, it was without a belfry, and was constructed after the fashion prevailing at the time. The building of the Lowhill church stirred the Weisenburg congregations into action. They tore down their stone church, and as above stated, erected in 1865 the present Weisenburg church. Those who opposed this move, with their sympathizers gave the name of "Hochmuths Kirche" to this church.

We have given the history of this church because it was the mother church of the three and the greater part of the fourth generations of the Bittners and Werleys and is still the church of many of the later generation. Here they were brought to God in Holy Baptism. Here they were instructed in the knowledge of their Saviour. Here many comforting messages were received from faithful men of God, who knew how to comfort the sorrowful, and the bereaved. Here, on the old and new cemetery lie the remains of those to whom we owe so much in this life. Ninety per cent of those that sleep on the new cemetery are Bittners and Werleys and those related to them through marriage. A feeling of reverential awe overtakes us as we behold this place, made sacred by those who had lived, labored and died there. May we ever honor those, whose offspring we are.

Soon after the first church was built, the congregations like in most other places established a school for the instruction of their children. At Weisenburg a house was erected which served as a dwelling for the school teacher, who at the same time was also organist of the church. In this dwelling a room was set aside for school purposes. As organist he lived free of rent and farmed the land belonging to the congregations. As teacher he was remunerated by the families who sent children to his instruction.

One of the most popular teachers here was J. Heinrich Busse. He taught here for many years and many of the third and fourth generation of Bittners and Werleys claimed him as their teacher. My own father, who never attended an English school, laid claim to him as his only teacher. He was born in Preusen, Germany, April 19, 1772; and died May 5, 1857. He is buried on the old cemetery beside his wife Elizabeth, a born Laury, born Dec. 26, 1782; and died Apr. 2, 1852. He was likely the son of Heinrich Wilhelm Busse who arrived in Philadelphia, on the ship Sally on Aug. 23, 1773.

The curriculum was a very simple one. Reading, writing and arithmetic were, at the time, considered all sufficient. The reading course consisted of the A, B. C, Buch (Book), Psalter (Book of Psalms), and the New Testament. In arithmetic, addition and subtraction were only taught. There was an old saying current among the parents: "das wen ein man Zusammen zehlen, und abzeihen kann, ist ehr ein guter mathematiker. (That if a man can add and subtract, he is good at figures.)

As the settlement became larger and the people spread over a larger territory private schools came into existence. Soon after the year 1800 J. Heinrich Busse taught school at Valentine Werley's [5] in the kitchen. At Dewalt Werley's there was a school for several terms in the garret of an old distillery. Such a school was also conducted in the kitchen of John Nicholas Werley [2], and this while the housewives went about their daily work of spinning, making cloth and preparing meals for the family.

The need of better teachers was realized and demanded. Hence the persons in authority were called upon to examine the applicant for a school. An amusing incident occurred in a neighboring township when an applicant for a German school was examined. It was in arithmetic. "First he gave a problem in addition, then in subtraction; these he solved, but when it came to multiplication, there he stuck. The superintendent asked, Mr. —, did you never study this? The teacher replied, "Das addiren und das subtrahendire das habe ich gelernt, aber das multiplicire und das diffidiren habe ich noch nie gekant." ("Addition and subtraction I learned, but multiplication and divison I never knew"). Another one being asked, "Herr M—, was: wissen sie von Grammer?" replied, "Ich hab mein lebtage nie gekramert,"—"Mr. M—, what do you know of grammar? I never was a peddler in my life.")

CHAPTER 4.

JOHANN MICHAEL WERLEIN came with his brother Sebastian in 1753 (See introduction). He seemed to have settled in Albany Tp., Berks County, Pa., where he was taxed, held and sold property, as late as Jan. 15, 1794. He was a partner to a tract with one Michael Bobst of the same place. Johann Albrecht born here in 1761; Margaretha was confirmed here in 1772; Andera B. Werle was confirmed in 1769. We believe that these were some of his children.

In Maxatawny Tp., we find Michael Werlein; Johann Albrecht Werlein and George Werlein. Michael Werlein was taxed in Maxatawny (as early as 1762) and Longswamp Tp. He was at one time the second highest tax payer in Maxatawny Tp. He was on the Building Committee, when in 1790 the second building of St. John's Lutheran and Reformed church was erected in Kutztown, Pa. It is thought that this Michael Werlein of Maxatawny was the same as that of Albany Tp. It was reported that this Michael Werlein of Maxatawny Tp., left some time after 1790. (He is taxed for the last time in the Tp., in 1793) and went to Sunbury, Pa., where he died. His wife and children left for the state of Ohio. August 21, 1817, Solomon Werlein, the third son of Michael, appears before Judges Porter and Cooper at the Northampton Court at Easton, with a petition to settle his father's estate. In it he states that his father, Michael, died about 13 years ago (1804). (This is about the same time that Sebastian died). And Elizabeth, his wife with the children live in the state of Ohio. He then proceeds to name the children as follows: 1 Abraham, who died since and left four children, they are Michael, Isaac, Abraham and Mary, all under age; 2 Michael, 3 Solomon, 4 Mary, 5 Catherine, 6 Henry, 7 John, 8 Sussanna, 9 Jacob, 10 Adam. (Vol. IX, P. 106, Orphans' Court, Easton, Pa.)

If this Michael of Maxatawny is the same as that of Albany Tp. what becomes of those children baptized and confirmed at Allemangle, which we believe are Johann Michael's children. They are: Johann Albrecht, born 1761; Margaretha, confirmed 1772; Andera, confirmed 1769. (Records of Rev. Daniel Schumacher). In Maxatawny Tp. Johann Albrecht Werlein is taxed in Maxatawny Tp. from 1781 to 1800. Another George Werlein was taxed in Maxatawny in 1774 single at the time. Later on Maria Magdalena, his widow was granted administration papers. (Vol. 3, P. 176 Orphan's Court, Reading, Pa.) These children are undoubtedly the children of the ancestor. But it is also surmised that those given in the records at Easton, and named above are also his children.

Two things are possible. First, the children not named in the records at Easton, may have died without issue and therefore would drop out. Second, it might be possible that Michael, of Maxatawny is another son of Johann Michael of Albany.

The wife of Michael of Maxatawny is given as Elizabeth (Easton Records). The wife of Johann Michael of Albany is given as Catherine by the Rev. Daniel Schumacher. We believe that these two, Michael and Johann Michael, are one and the same person and that the name of his wife was Catherine Elizabeth. And this for the following reasons. The dates are such that they point to one man. In 1762 taxed as landlord on outskirts of Kutztown, near Kemp's Hotel, along the William Penn Highway. A little later acquires large tracts of land. This happens at the same time that his brother Sebastian Werlein secured his tract in Weisenburg Tp. At the time he is taxed for the last time in Maxatawny Tp. in 1793, he sold also his part interest in a tract in Albany. We believe that he belonged to Allemangle church because he may have spent the first few years there and when he came to Maxatawny there was no well established Lutheran church nearer than Moselem, which was no nearer than Allemangle. But when in 1790 St. John's at Kutztown was built he became interested there. He also died at about the same time as Sebastian. Lived in the same generation and therefore we conclude, all things considered that the Michael of Maxatawny is the Johann Michael and brother of Sebastian Werlein.

We have given this information with the hope that some descendant of Johann Michael Werlein take up the trail, some where in the state of Ohio, and complete the family tree of this ancestor.

Francis Worley came to Amercia at the instance of William Penn, before 1729. He was a surveyor, and surveyed the greater part, if not all of York Co. He was a very prominent man. His descendants seem to have spread over the entire United States.

In our search of tax records, we came across the name of Jacob Werley (given in the list of immigrants—see introduction) who settled in District Township, Berks Co., and was taxed there in 1769.

Daniel F. Bittner, who died in 1905, was a large land owner in Berks county. He was born at Jonestown, Lebanon Co., the son of Jacob, who was a son of Jacob Bittner the ancestor who came from Germany some time before the year 1800. Descendants of this ancestor live in Lancaster County, at Lititz, Brunerville and other parts of the county.

The name of John J. Bittner appears on the Pennsylvania monument, on the battlefield at Gettysburg, Pa. He was born April 10, 1842, and died June 19 1871. He came from Germany when a boy, was united in marriage to Caroline

Schaufler and resided at Easton, Pa. He served in the Civil War, as sergeant in the 153rd Regiment. He had the following children: (1) Harry Bittner; (2) Mrs. Fred McElroy; (3) Emma, Mrs. Bates Miller; (4) Julia, Mrs. Henry Arnold; (5) Elizabeth and (6) Carrie, died in infancy.

There are buried in the mausoleum on the New Greenwood cemetery at Allentown, Pa., Oscar Bittner (b. May 10, 1865; d. July 13, 1906) and his wife Mary Jane (b. Oct. 10, 1863; d. Feb. 13, 1923) and their son George R. (b. Feb. 8, 1885; d. Jan. 10, 1927). They have children living: Fred Bittner, Lehigh Valley Trust Co., Allentown; William, of Reading; John of Philadelphia; Harry of Bound Brook, N. J.; Mary of Elmer, N. J.; Harriet of Philadelphia, and Dorothy of Shamokin, Pa.

Oscar has a brother George L. Bittner, living at Allentown, Pa. There were also three sisters and several more brothers, but nothing is known of them at this time.

George L., at the age of one and one-half years, came with his father from Germany to New York, thence to Hazleton, Pa.

While gathering material at Lansford, we came across the family of Oscar Bittner, whose grandfather Adam Bittner, married to Mary Helwig, is buried at Numidia, Pa. We have been unable to find out, who the father of Adam was. Adam Bittner had the following children:

1. John, m. Alice Fetterman.

2. Lewis, m. — —.

They had Oscar, married to Effie Kentner, and Charles who died. Oscar has children: (1) Margaret, a nurse; (2) Edith, m. William Traileton and they have Robert and Margaret; (3) Laura, m. George Deisbach, they have children Alice and Willis.

3. Henry, m. Ellen Rhodes.

They have two children, one whose name is Charles.

4. Eli, m. Hannah ———, Numidia, Pa.

One child, Artie.

5. Lizzie, m. Albert Rhodes.

6. Susan, m. Isaac Keisher.

They have children Daniel, Robert, John, Ellen, Lester, Lucy, Harvey.

7. Lillie is single.

Other Bittners and Werleys have been met throughout the eastern states, but they, like the above mentioned, trace their ancestors to other sources; most of them likely to one of the other ancestors given in the list of immigrants in the introduction.
